DEAN’S MESSAGE

Aloha,

We anticipate another year of exciting student, alumni and community events. Starting in February, I will be on the road again visiting alumni from all over the world. Our goals are to elevate alumni experiences by reconnecting them with others in their region and expand our global network to support college initiatives.

These annual visits have been extremely successful in helping us reconnect with our alumni, but more importantly have been beneficial for our students.

Thanks to our alumni, we have been able to establish new scholarship and professorship endowments, as well as create new internship and career placement opportunities. Over the years, our alumni have also served as college ambassadors, mentors, speakers and a valuable resource for the college. They continue to be our greatest advocates.

In this issue’s feature story, key regional alumni share what it means to help students and their fellow alumni, and to be a part of the Shidler global network. In addition, we highlight alumni from around the world who are making noteworthy contributions in their profession, community and to their alma mater.

In the next few months, we will be visiting alumni in Japan and Hong Kong. We will also be gearing up for the inaugural Shidler Global Leadership Summit from July 11-13, 2019, in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam, to bring together alumni from all over the world. The summit will include keynote speakers Stephen Vargo, professor of marketing, Shidler College of Business, and alumna Angela Lee, professor of marketing, Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University; and breakout sessions on trending topics in banking, agriculture, information technology and entrepreneurship. If you ever dreamed of visiting Vietnam, this is the perfect opportunity to connect, collaborate and celebrate with other alumni. We invite all of you to join us.

As always, stay in touch and thanks again for your support.

Sincerely,

V. Vance Roley

Volume 41, Number 2
Fall/Winter 2018

Our alumni are not only successful in their careers, but have played an integral role in elevating Shidler’s recognition as a global world-class institution. With alumni providing pathways for student internships and employment, building our alumni network and hosting events, as well as financially supporting college. initiatives, our successes are largely owed and attributed to our alumni.

Every year, the college hosts alumni events throughout Asia and the West Coast to reconnect with our graduates, broaden the alumni network and stay apprised of business and industry trends. In 2018, Shidler College of Business Dean Vance Roley and the advancement team hosted 15 successful events spanning nine cities and five countries to connect with nearly 2,000 alumni.

“It is a real pleasure and honor to spend time with our alumni living outside of Hawai‘i. Their sincere investment and interest in the college is quite inspiring; I find them to be some of the most loyal and generous supporters of the college,” say Roley. “Our alumni events are paramount to leveraging the strength of our global alumni network, as well as to connect our graduates worldwide.”

We surveyed a few of our alumni across the world to share the importance of remaining connected to their alma mater.

SINGAPORE — Anthony Wong
(BBA ’83), CEO, Creative Eateries Group

“Being in the hospitality industry for the past 32 years and having the Shidler name attached to my personal brand and company has provided me with an edge. The Shidler brand has added credibility and trust during my career. As a result, the Creative Eateries Group has grown to be one of the leading players in the Singapore food and beverage industry, with over 50 restaurants in the region.”

Wong explains as the world becomes smaller and more inter-connected, staying in touch with fellow alumni becomes more important. Despite his busy schedule,

Why Stay Connected?
– Build Your Network
– Become a Mentor
– Volunteer as an Alumni Ambassador
– Gain Professional Development
– Build Career Connections
– Host Events
– Provide Career and Internship Opportunities
– Share Knowledge
– Support Opportunities
– Reconnect with Classmates
– Gain Industry Insights
Wong looks forward to the college’s annual alumni visit to reminisce days in Hawai’i and keep abreast of new developments in the hospitality industry.

VIETNAM — Thanh Thi Thu Ha (VEMBA ’03, Hall of Honor 2012), Chairwoman, Organization Deloitte Vietnam Limited

“I would love to share my skills and experiences with other alumni and especially with current and prospective students. With over 27 years of extensive experience with Deloitte, I am proud to be one of the very few woman leaders in Deloitte Global. I want to inspire all students, especially female students, to rise to the top of giant companies in the world. I would also like to share my inspirational stories of leading from the front, leading by example and especially leading with your heart and soul. I have received the precious gift of knowledge and networking from the Shidler College of Business and have applied what I gained from the MBA program. It is now my responsibility to give back, to inspire and to help grow the next generation of leaders from that program.”

According to Ha, her business and ties with other alumni have grown much stronger since reconnecting with her alma mater. She is now able to share her professional experiences as well as learn from others.

HONG KONG — Eddie Tak Kwong Lam (BBA ’81, Hall of Honor 2011), CEO, Feng Tai Footwear Company, Ltd.

“A successful entrepreneur, Lam continues to be one of Shidler’s strongest advocates. He has been instrumental in promoting the college brand by helping to recruit new students from Asia and organizing different alumni events in Hong Kong, China and other Asian cities.

U.S. Mainland — Thomas Nichols (BBA ’78, Hall of Honor 2017)
VIETNAM — Tra My Nguyen (VEMBA ’07, Hall of Honor 2016), Vice Chairman and CEO, The PAN Group

“I love sharing not only skills but also my knowledge. Frankly, I always wanted to inspire others, especially the younger generation. Moreover, I think knowledge is not for oneself; it is much better to share it with many other people.”

Since 2007, Nguyen has supported the MBA for Executives in Vietnam (VEMBA) program by participating in graduation ceremonies, recruiting students and helping the program expand. Nguyen says connecting with other alumni has enabled her to develop partnerships and a support group to help each other when necessary.

U.S. MAINLAND — Thomas Nichols (BBA ’78, Hall of Honor 2017), President, Pretika Corporation

“The benefit of staying connected with our alma mater is symbiotic. We all want to see our alma mater grow in stature to improve how employers, grad schools and others see the importance of our education and to support the next generation of students and alumni.”

As an entrepreneur, Nichols understands the importance of building a global reputation and a strong consumer brand for his company. He explains that it is hard to understand a company, industry or professional role until you are in it. He feels alumni can serve a greater purpose by serving as mentors and helping students deepen their understanding of potential careers.

HONG KONG — Richard Leung (BBA ’79, Hall of Honor 2008), Chairman, Crownex Strategy Limited

“I am very happy to share my skills and experiences, and would also expect our fellow alumni and students to share their experiences and skills with me. We learn not only from books but also from one another, particularly in a fast-changing world. We learn from the seasoned ones, as well as young ones because each group has different perspectives and experiences. However, just being from the same alma mater makes me feel closer and makes our dialogue more enjoyable."

Prior to his current position, Leung served as the managing director and head of wealth management of USB Securities Company Ltd., China, and led multiple financial institutions across Asia. A well-seasoned traveler, Leung admits that meeting international alumni provided him with first-hand knowledge and insights to their culture and traditions.

HONG KONG — Wendy Tong Barnes (BBA ‘81), Chief Corporate Affairs Officer, CK Asset Holdings Limited, CK Infrastructure Holdings Limited and CK Life Sciences Intl., Inc. and Deputy CEO, Hu Xian Asset Management Limited

“I have been very blessed to have the opportunity to work in different fields – property, infrastructure, life sciences, media and television – and in different markets including Hong Kong, United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, Germany, Portugal and Mainland China. Working from such a wide and extensive plane, I perceive life, society and business environment from quite a special vantage point; and the basis from which I make life and business decisions may be quite unconventional. I would very much like to share my skills, experiences and thoughts, and at the same time understand those of other alumni. I believe that through such sharing, we all could improve and flourish.*

Like most alumni, Barnes reminisces on her years in Hawai‘i with fond memories. She recalls her most memorable student experiences were studying for exams on the beach, watching the sunset at Ala Moana Beach Park, eating at Yanagi Sushi and indulging in teppanyaki dinners at Benihana at the Hilton Hawaiian Village. Therefore, she welcomes any opportunity to reconnect with other alumni.

JAPAN — Curtis Freeze (MBA ’87, Hall of Honor 2014), President, Prospect Co., Ltd.

“I enjoy supporting Shidler through sponsoring alumni gatherings in Tokyo. Over the years, I have hired and worked with many fantastic employees who are graduates. I look forward to meeting and mentoring many more Shidler students!”

With over 25 years of experience in Japan’s financial industry, Freeze’s knowledge of that region has been a great resource for the college. Over the years, he has served as a speaker, mentor and guest lecturer for the college, as well as placed Shidler students in internships and jobs. Freeze was also instrumental in helping the college plan its first alumni networking event in Japan. He continues to host annual visits and alumni gatherings.

Shidler alumni all over the world are inspiring us with their stories of success, community service, challenges and personal achievements. They may be thousands of miles away from their alma mater, but are deeply engaged and committed to offering their support, wisdom and opportunities to our students.

Join us and become part of the college’s global network. To learn where and when we will be in a city near you, visit: shidler.hawaii.edu/events.

Announcing the 2018 Hall of Honor Award recipients

Five distinguished alumni were honored at the Hall of Honor Awards fundraising dinner on October 11 in partnership with the Shidler Alumni Association at the Sheraton Waikiki.

The honorees were selected for their leadership qualities and outstanding contributions to their profession, community and alma mater.

Hawai‘i Pacific Health served as the presenting sponsor, with contributing sponsors First Hawaiian Bank, Hawaiian Electric Company, Inc. and Hawaiian Electric Industries, Anthology Marketing Group, Inc. and media sponsor Pacific Business News.

Proceeds from the event support scholarships, student enrichment programs, alumni outreach and student activities.

Mary K. Fastenau (EMBA ’96), Partner and President, Digital, Anthology Marketing Group, Inc.

Fastenau has 38 years of experience in the communications and digital marketing industry. She began her career with the Gannett Corporation working for newspapers in Indiana and California. In 1989 she moved to Hawai‘i and began working at Starr Seigle Communications Inc., and later co-founded its digital division StarrTech Interactive. In 2007, Fastenau was part of a group that formed Anthology. Under Fastenau’s leadership, Anthology Digital has received numerous awards for its creative excellence in websites, e-marketing and digital solutions.

Michael K. Hirai (BBA ’78), Senior Managing Director and Partner, Metaurus Advisors, LLC

Hirai has 34 years of experience in asset management and most recently served as senior vice president and manager of First Hawaiian Bank’s Institutional Advisory Services Division. Hirai also was the director, president, CEO and chief investment officer of Bishop Street Capital Management. In 1990, he served as a partner, chairman and director of fixed income at CIC/HCM Asset Management firm, which was sold to First Hawaiian Bank in 2004.

David Y. Okabe (BBA ’84), Executive VP, Chief Financial Officer and Treasurer, Hawai‘i Pacific Health

Okabe has more than 30 years of executive experience in the accounting sector. He began his career with Ernst & Young in Honolulu. In 1999, Okabe moved to Kapi‘olani Health. After the merger in 2004 that created Hawai‘i Pacific Health, Okabe was promoted from vice president and treasurer to chief financial officer, and currently serves as the president of Hawai‘i Pacific Health Partners.

Tayne S.Y. Sekimura (BBA ’84), Senior VP and Chief Financial Officer, Hawaiian Electric Company, Inc.

Sekimura has served in a variety of managerial and executive positions since joining Hawaiian Electric Company, Inc. She has held leadership positions in internal audit, strategic planning, finance, information technology, facilities management and customer service. Prior to joining Hawaiian Electric Company, Inc., Sekimura was an audit manager at KPMG.

Wee Loke Tang (BBA ’73), Independent Non-Executive Director, UOB-Kay Hian Holdings Ltd.

Tang began his career as an investment analyst at Kay Hian, a small family-owned firm in Singapore. Within four years, he was promoted to deputy managing director. Following the merger with United Overseas Bank (UOB) Securities in 2001, Tang was appointed deputy managing director of UOB-Kay Hian and helped to turn UOB-Kay Hian into Singapore’s largest brokerage. In 2007, Tang retired but remains as executive director of UOB-Kay Hian. Under his leadership, the company has grown to a sales team of 1,100 across Asian markets, as well as in New York and London. During his 40-year career in finance, Tang served as independent director of the Singapore Stock Exchange (SGX), and founded and chaired the Securities Association of Singapore.
New and returning students enjoyed music, games and free food at Shidler Day. This event held annually in August, kicks off the school year and introduces students to college programs, activities, faculty and clubs in a festive atmosphere.

In addition to a range of snacks and local products, the college distributed 500 slices of pizza courtesy of Roger Higa (BBA ’86) and New York Life. Meadow Gold Hawaii also donated 600 bottles of juice, tea and milk courtesy of Jerry Linville (MBA ’96).

Shidler unveils gifts to UH and UW

An innovative gift from Jay H. Shidler, founder and managing partner of the Shidler Group, to the University of Hawai‘i and University of Washington (UW) was celebrated in Seattle last year. The gift includes cash, potential future leasing income and a transformational real estate gift to be realized a century from now. The real estate is 2.6 acres of land in Seattle’s South Lake Union neighborhood that currently houses a cluster of UW Medicine buildings. Shidler, leaders from both universities and friends celebrated with an unveiling of a plaque at the UW Biomedical Center in September.

Weinstein’s Ethics Series features impressive speakers

The candid and lively fund manager and former securities executive Will K. Weinstein returned to the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa to moderate his annual Ethics Conversation Series co-sponsored by the Williams S. Richardson School of Law and the Shidler College of Business. Each year, Weinstein invites distinguished professionals to campus and makes his graduate summer course available to the public.

Human rights expert speaks at the Paul Chung Memorial Lecture

UH law professor and international human rights expert Tae-Ung Baik spoke at the annual Dr. N.H. Paul Chung Memorial Lecture and Luncheon at the Prince Waikiki Hotel in August. Baik discussed international human rights and enforced disappearances issues in Asia based on his years of research and personal experiences.

Baik was involved in South Korea’s democracy movement against its military dictatorship in the 1980-90s and was incarcerated twice. Amnesty International later designated him as a prisoner of conscience.
Nearly 350 scholarship donors and their student recipients celebrated the gift of education at the college’s annual Scholarship Luncheon in November.

Scholarship donor and keynote speaker Terry Lee, president and CEO of Lee Financial Group Hawaii said, “I’m happy to have the opportunity to support the next generation of business leaders in Hawai‘i. My hope is that these scholarships help take some financial pressure off the students so they can focus on achieving their goals.” Since 2010, Lee’s scholarship endowment has awarded 63 scholarships to high-achieving students enrolled at the college.

“We are extremely grateful that our alumni, friends and the business community are willing to invest in our students’ future,” says Vance Roley, dean of the Shidler College of Business. “Scholarships help ease students’ concerns about rising tuition costs and increasing college loan debts. Scholarships also make it possible to keep talented students from leaving Hawai‘i while still acquiring a world-class education.”

Scholarship recipients and speakers Eryn Yuasa and Dylan Howell are examples of students who benefited greatly from scholarships.

Yuasa received several scholarships, which allowed her to participate in student organizations, internships and study abroad opportunities at the college without the need to work. Scholarships have helped Howell stay on track even while experiencing personal challenges. Today, Howell is thriving and continues to work part-time to finish his MBA degree.

This is the fifth year that Enterprise Rent-A-Car has served as the title sponsor and the third year that Hawaii Business magazine served as the media sponsor for this event.
Meet the newest additions of the Shidler ‘ohana

Three new cohorts—The Freshmen Direct Admit, Global MBA and Distance Learning Executive MBA programs—began their educational journey in the fall starting with an orientation and reception. Incoming students were introduced to the campus life, resources, services and opportunities available to them.

BEST IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

U.S. News & World Report ranked the Shidler College of Business 18th on its 2019 list of top international business programs. Shidler College was ranked with top schools such as the University of Pennsylvania, USC, New York University, UC Berkeley and the University of Michigan. The Shidler College has been consistently ranked among the top 25 international relations programs in the nation over the last decade.
PACE Faculty Fellow, Dr. Jonas Vibell, used grant funding from the center to develop the UH Entrepreneurs Fellowship, a tour of innovative companies in Silicon Valley. Dr. Vibell partnered with Rose Wong, president of the Hawai‘i Student Entrepreneurs, and with Kamehameha Schools to execute the tour. In July, a mixed-discipline group of six students visited eight companies including: Betabrand, Lumosity and Tesla.

Twelve teams successfully completed the six-week intensive program, which provided workshops and mentors to help teams evaluate their ideas and launch a business. Four dedicated mentors, the generous support of both the Mamoru and Aiko Takitani Foundation and the UH Vice President for Research and Innovation made the third Launchpad program a success. SUMMER STARTUP LAUNCHPAD

CONGRATS, LAUNCHPAD GRADUATES!

A team of graduate ocean and resources engineering students took home the “Most Valuable Pitcher” prize for their autonomous drone idea that promotes safety of scuba divers. Students had one minute to throw their business pitch in front of a live audience and convince them to support their new venture. The kickoff event, at UH Campus Center, gave students a platform to share their business ideas and meet other entrepreneurial minds from across campus.

First Fridays - PACE held networking mixers on the first Friday of each month to give UH students and faculty the opportunity to come together from across campus to socialize, network and build relationships in a casual environment. A mini marketplace was incorporated in each event to showcase student startups from Hawai‘i Student Entrepreneurs.

COMPANIES HANG HIRING SIGNS

Hundreds of students attended the Shidler Internship and Career Expo in October for an opportunity to land a full-time job or internship. Organized each semester by the college’s Undergraduate Internships and Career Development Office, the expo features more than 100 recruiters representing over 40 companies.

THREE-WEEK TOUR IN ASIA

Twenty undergraduate and graduate students participated in the Asian Field Study Program over the summer. The three-week tour of Asia included stops in Tokyo, Kyoto, Beijing, Hanoi and Seoul. The group visited over 20 global, multinational companies, and numerous historic and cultural sites. The six-credit Asian Field Study Program is designed to enhance students’ preparation for business careers in the Asia-Pacific region. Students received scholarships totaling over $100,000 from the Freeman Foundation, Ralph S. Inouye Co., Ltd., David T. Pietsch and the college.

SHIDLER TEAMS TAKE SECOND IN BUSINESS COMPETITIONS

The Shidler team of Dakota Kubacak (BBA ‘18), Kelly Zheng (BBA ‘20), Constancio Paranal III (Faculty Advisor), Eryn Yuasa (BBA ‘19) and Edwin Wong (BBA ‘18) placed second at the 9th Annual CUIBE International Business Case Competition held at Northeastern University D’Amore-McKim School of Business in October. The CUIBE case competition gives students an opportunity to showcase their knowledge in international business through a competitive environment.

Alicia Chang (BBA ‘19), Jacob Baysa (BBA ‘18) and Natasha Bailey (BBA ‘18) placed second in the International Institute for Business Development (IIBD) competition at the University of Manila, Philippines, this past fall. In June, the Shidler team was one of 27 teams invited to compete.

With the assistance of the Undergraduate Shidler Internships and Career Development Office, Shidler undergraduate student John Hewer (BBA ‘19) received his dream marketing internship this past summer with the Washington Capitals, a professional hockey team that won the NHL Stanley Cup Championship in July.

GRADUATES CELEBRATE IN VIETNAM

The MBA for Executives in Vietnam
(VEMBA) program graduated 32 students from its Ho Chi Minh City campus and Hanoi campus in July 2018. The graduates celebrated the culmination of two years of hard work with a ceremony and a formal banquet with family, friends and faculty.

STUDENTS KICK OFF VEMBA WITH RESIDENCE WEEKEND

With team challenges and tutorials, the MBA for Executives in Vietnam (VEMBA) program launched its Residence Weekend in October with 19 students in Hanoi and 37 students in Ho Chi Minh City. The students spent two days bonding and preparing for the rigorous two-year program for working professionals living in Vietnam.

MIS SPLASH PROMOTES INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY CAREERS

More than 150 students and professionals attended the 2018 MIS Splash in September. The goal of the event is to bring together professionals, faculty and students to promote career opportunities in the IT industry in Hawai‘i and the world. The Information Technology Management Department (ITM) also presented undergraduate students Austin Itamoto, Jinping Lin and Erika Sun with the MIS Career Choice Scholarship. As part of the scholarship, students were assigned CIO mentors Colbert Seto, Rehab Hospital of the Pacific; Benson Choo, Finance Enterprise; Steve Robertson, Hawai‘i Pacific Health, respectively.

PASSPORT FAIR SHOWCASES EXCHANGE OPPORTUNITIES

The International Business Organization (IBO) held an International Passport Fair in September to showcase study abroad and international student exchange opportunities, through country-specific information tables. Winners of the IBO Perpetual Award for the most Outstanding Country Presentation went to the Business Executive Society of Tomorrow club for their impressive array of information on South Korea’s business culture, customs, language, universities, food and cultural sites.

ALOHA GRADUATES

New Faculty and Staff

Christine Shimomura has joined the college as the program coordinator of the Executive Education Center. She will be assisting with the marketing and admissions of the center’s programs. Previously, Shimomura was a marketing assistant for Ferraro Choi and Associates, Ltd. She received a BBA in marketing with a minor in English from the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa.

Promotions, Awards and Appointments

Jing Ai, First Insurance Company Distinguished Professor, has been promoted to professor of finance. She joined the college in 2008 as an assistant professor specializing in risk management and insurance.

Boo Chun Jung, Shidler College Distinguished Professor, has been promoted to professor of accounting. He joined the college in 2007 specializing in corporate financial accounting issues.

The following faculty received teaching awards for the 2018 spring semester: Eric Mais, professor of finance, (Global MBA Core); Benjamin Bystrom, finance faculty (Global MBA Elective Course); Eric Mais, professor of finance, (Executive MBA); Amol Joshi, former assistant professor of management, (Distance Learning EMBA); Terri Fuji, accounting faculty, (Master of Accounting); Chris Rachal, information technology management faculty, (BBA Core Course); Constancio Paranal, marketing faculty, (BBA Major Course) and Daniel Port, associate professor of information technology management, (BBA Elective Course).

Congratulations to Unyong Nakata, executive director of development, for being honored as the 2018 Young Professional of the Year by the Chamber of Commerce Hawaii.

Research

Randall Minas, Hon Kau and Alice Lee Faculty Fellow and assistant professor of the Information Technology Management Department and A.R. Dennis’ paper entitled, “Visual Background Music: Creativity Support Systems with Priming,” was published in the Journal of Management Information Systems.

A University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa interdisciplinary research team consisting of Elizabeth Davidson, W. Ruel Johnson Distinguished Professor and professor of information technology management, J.S. Winter and V. Fan were awarded a $215,000 National Science Foundation grant to study the emergence of organizational forms of data governance in the big data era. Researchers will investigate how to harness massive amounts of information in the health care sector for social good while balancing competing claims on the data and concerns regarding risks for individual privacy and security.

Over 5,000 athletes of all ages, representing all 50 states participated in either the Olympic-Distance National Triathlon Championships or the Sprint National Championships. To qualify, Varley finished in the top 1 percent of a USA Triathlon, Sanctioned Age Group race in Hawai’i.

Last summer, Assistant Professor of Marketing Lauren Cheatham (center) gave a talk to the team from Hawai’i Energy on how to help consumers make better decisions when it comes to home energy improvements.

For the fifth consecutive year, Stephen Vargo, Shidler College Distinguished Professor and professor of marketing, was named to the Web of Science “Highly Cited Researchers” list for 2018 by Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson-Reuters). Vargo is one of only three marketing scholars worldwide to receive this honor. He is among an elite group of scholars (top 1%) recognized for their exceptional research performance through multiple cited papers. This distinction identifies him as one of the world’s most influential scientific minds in economics and business.

Scholarship endowed to honor accounting executive Manny Sylvester

Local accounting firm Accuity LLP and Shidler accounting faculty joined forces to establish a $50,000 endowed scholarship in honor of Manuel (Manny) R. Sylvester, former managing partner of Coopers & Lybrand. Acuity LLP together with Kent and Jean Tsukamoto (BBA ’78; BBA ’78), contributed $35,000 of the total endowment with the balance coming from members of the college’s accounting faculty. The gift will be used to fund accounting scholarships. Previously, Manny and Marge Sylvester endowed the Marge Sylvester Scholarship for accounting students.

Christopher and Debra Helm endow Business Night award with $100,000 gift

Christopher Helm (MBA ’91) and wife Debra have made an estate gift of $100,000 through the Helm Family Trust to endow the David Bess Leadership Award. The couple established the award 24 years ago to honor David Bess, former dean of the Shidler College of Business. Each year, the award is presented to a promising student leader during the college’s Business Night event. Since 1994, the couple has given more than $50,000 to fund the David Bess Leadership Award. With this new endowment, the college will be able to fund this award in perpetuity. The Helms plan to continue to annually fund the award until the estate gift is received.

Thomas and Debra Nichols establish endowed scholarship

Thomas (BBA ’78) and Debra Nichols have established the Thomas E. Nichols and Debra S. Nichols Endowed Scholarship to support students majoring in entrepreneurship or marketing at the college. Nichols also received an MBA in marketing from Pepperdine University. He was inducted into the Shidler Hall of Honor in 2017 and is the president and founder of Pretika Corporation, a medical device lifestyle brand based in Riverside, California.

Shirley M. Lee gives additional $250,000 toward her professorship

Shirley M. Lee (MBA ’77) has increased her support to the Shidler College of Business with an additional gift of $250,000 to elevate her existing faculty fellowship to the Hon Kau and Alice Lee Distinguished Professorship. Lee’s professorship honors her parents for providing her with the best education.

Faculty endowments such as this are important in improving the quality of education as they allow the college to attract and retain world-class faculty. Lee received both her bachelor’s and MBA degrees from UH Mānoa.
Donor Spotlight

In 2006, Lance Inouye (EMBA ’05), president and CEO, Ralph S. Inouye Co., Ltd., established the Ralph S. Inouye Co., Ltd. Endowment in Honor of Professor K.K. Seo. As a result, over $12,000 in financial support has been awarded to students participating in the Asian Field Study Program from the Inouye Endowment.

It’s been 15 years since Inouye participated in the college’s Asian Field Study Program, yet the memories of this once-in-a-lifetime learning experience still remain fresh in his mind.

“While enrolled in the Executive MBA Program (EMBA), I was fortunate to participate in the summer Asian Field Study Program. Through intense coursework and travel to five countries, we learned the differences in business between those foreign countries versus the U.S. and the importance of understanding cultural differences among them. It was truly a valuable program that I believe more EMBA students should be given the opportunity to experience, hence the creation of this endowment. It was also a thank you to Professor Seo for developing the program as part of the EMBA degree.”

The Asian Field Study Program is designed to give students a real world business experience and to prepare students for careers and business opportunities in the Asia-Pacific region.

First Insurance Company of Hawaii establishes second $1 million professorship

First Insurance Company of Hawaii (FICOH), the oldest and largest insurance company headquartered in Hawai‘i, has donated $500,000 to fund a second faculty endowment at the college. The First Insurance Company of Hawaii Distinguished Professorship in Insurance will be matched dollar-for-dollar by the college for a total endowment value of $1 million. In 2007, the company established their first $1 million faculty endowment named the First Insurance Company Distinguished Professorship in Risk Management.

Hawaii-based companies of Saltchuk renew scholarship for Distance EMBA Program

Over the past 12 years, Saltchuk Resources Inc. and its Hawaii-based companies (Young Brothers, Aloha Air Cargo, Hawaii/Maui Petroleum, Minit Stop, Ohana Fuels and Foss) have given more than $800,000 in scholarship support to over 70 neighbor island graduate students. Their scholarship has enabled 10 neighbor island students to enroll in the 2018-2020 cohort of the Distance Learning Executive MBA Program at Shidler. The scholarship was awarded based on community service, merit and financial need.

THANKS TO THE HELP OF OUR SHIDLER ALUMNI ‘OHANA, THE SUMMER AND FALL 2018 SEMESTERS WERE FILLED WITH NETWORKING AND FUNDRAISING EVENTS THAT EXTENDED THE COLLEGE’S REACH WORLDWIDE. HERE ARE HIGHLIGHTS FROM OUR EXCITING ALUMNI ADVENTURES.

OFFICERS INDUCTED AT ANNUAL ALUMNI MEETING
June 21 | Brilliant Ox
More than 80 alumni and friends gathered together for an evening of business-building and making new connections at the Shidler Alumni Association Annual Meeting & Mixer. During the event, the association re-elected its officers, and welcomed five new members to its board of directors including: Carol Higa (BBA ’80) senior vice president and division manager, Business Banking and Credit Administration, Hawaii State Federal Credit Union; Shelli Ihori (BBA ’06, MHRM ’07), workforce planning & compliance manager, Hawai‘i Pacific Health; Kara Iwasaki (BBA ’03, MHRM ’13), vice president, Kumabe HR; Teresa Lieu (BBA ’11), commercial banking officer II, American Savings Bank; Dianne Vicheinrut (MBA ’11) financial advisor, Northwestern Mutual.

ESTABLISHING CONNECTIONS AROUND THE WORLD
July 2018 | Singapore and Vietnam
Dean Vance Roley and Executive Director of Development Unyong Nakata traveled to Singapore and Vietnam this summer. While in Vietnam, Roley and Nakata enjoyed the MBA for Executives in Vietnam (VEMBA) commencement ceremony and reception, where Curtis Freeze (MBA ’87), president, Prospect Co., Ltd., served as commencement speaker. In Singapore, they met with a diverse range of alumni and professionals to discuss Shidler’s global brand and initiatives to connect alumni world-wide.

FOOD CONNECTS ALUMNI AT ANNUAL DINE AROUND
July 25 | International Market Place
More than 60 alumni and friends enjoyed a lively evening at the Shidler Alumni Association Dine Around event. Shidler Alumni Association directors and attendees had fun breaking up into groups of 10 to dine and connect with other participants at each restaurant. Restaurants included Yauatcha, Herringbone and StripSteak.

AN EVENING OF RECONNECTING
September 8 | El Gaucho Bellevue
Alumni from the greater Washington State area gathered for an evening of networking and reconnecting with fellow classmates at the Seattle Alumni & Friends Mixer. Dean Vance Roley provided college updates and distributed fun giveaways to attendees. A big mahalo to the Shidler Alumni Association for their generous sponsorship of this event.

SETTING SAIL IN SUPPORT OF SCHOLARSHIPS
September 16 | Newport Bay
More than 80 alumni and friends boarded the Dulcinea for an enchanting afternoon cruise along Newport Bay at the Newport Bay Yacht Cruise Scholarship Fundraiser. Proceeds raised from the event benefited the Shidler Advancement Fund, which supports student scholarships, alumni outreach, student programs and other initiatives. Mahalo to Bill (BBA ’65) and Sue Johnson who not only generously hosted the event, but have also invested two $1 million distinguished professorships to help the college recruit and retain world-class faculty, and $1.5 million to establish the William R. Johnson, Jr. Study Abroad Endowment to support the college’s international study abroad initiative.

MENTORING THE NEXT GENERATION OF BUSINESS LEADERS
September 20 | International Market Place
The Shidler Alumni Association, in partnership with the Shidler Global Leaders, hosted the second annual Mentor Connect event comprised of 30 Shidler students, and 30 mentors and alumni. The evening started at Flour and Barley, where the groups then moved to Herringbone and Eating House 1849, each time meeting with a new set of alumni and students. The event also kicked off the Shidler Global Leaders’ Mentorship Program, which pairs top students with C-suite business leaders. Mentors include Judy Bishop, owner, Bishop & Company; Mary Fastenau (MBA ’96), partner/president – Digital, Anthology Marketing Group; Daniel Kim, executive coach and facilitator, One Shared Future; Tayne Sekimura (BBA ’84), senior VP and chief financial officer, Hawaiian Electric Company, Inc., Shannon Okinaka (BBA ’96), executive vice president and chief financial officer for Hawaiian Airlines and Larry Rodriguez, retired financial executive.
The forecast for 2019 looks promising for third-generation, president and general manager of Maui Soda & Ice Works, Ltd., Catherine Nobriga Kim (BBA ’79).

The company started in 1884 and has continued as a family business since 1946. Nobriga Kim is the first female president running the company, which includes several family members. She oversees three divisions—soft drinks, foodservice beverage products and frozen products including Roselani Ice Cream.

Since Nobriga Kim took over as president in 2017, the company has upgraded its equipment and continued its green initiative by installing a photovoltaic system and recycling program. She continues to add new, low sugar and zero-calorie drink products to appeal to healthier consumer taste. The company is one of 24 independent Coca-Cola owned distributors. Nobriga Kim’s family is a member of the Family Business Center of Hawai’i at the Shidler College of Business.
Schools, was elected to the Hawaii Employers Council, a nonprofit organization dedicated to helping employers maintain collaborative employee relations. She will serve for three years as a board member effective on January 1, 2019.

Journey to Silicon Valley

Shidler alumnus and high-tech executive Earl Fry (BBA ’80), shared his insight and wisdom of working in Silicon Valley with a room full of UH students in November. He candidly spoke about his learning experiences in various managerial positions; strategies in resolving disagreements with supervisors and his ability to advance by working hard and asking a lot of questions.

After graduating from the college with a BBA in accounting, Fry made his way to California, received his MBA from the Stanford Graduate School of Business and shot up the corporate ladder fairly quickly. He served in financial leadership roles in public and private companies, most recently as chief financial officer of Informatica Corporation, the leading independent provider of data integration software and services. Prior to that, Fry was the CFO of several companies including Omnicell, CATS Co and Weitek Corp.

Today, Fry serves on the board of directors of Hawaiian Airlines, Central Pacific Financial and the Shidler College Pacific Asian Center for Entrepreneurship (PACE). In 2012, he received the Hall of Honor Award from the Shidler College of Business.
August holds over 16 years of financial industry experience. He previously served as mortgage division area sales manager for Wells Fargo Home Mortgage and as a certified public accountant with KHM LLP. August serves his community by volunteering with the American Heart Association, Special Olympics Hawai‘i, Family Programs Hawaii and HUGS. August also serves on the advisory board for the Shidler College of Business School of Accountancy and is a past board member for The Hawaii Academy of Science and Ho‘okāko‘o.

2000s

The insights and quality services we deliver help build trust and confidence in the capital markets and in economies the world over. We develop outstanding leaders who team to deliver on our promises to all of our stakeholders. In so doing, we play a critical role in building a better working world for our people, for our clients and for our communities.

Congrats to Shidler alumni at EY for over 50 years of business collaboration in building a better working world!

For over 50 years, Ernst & Young (EY) has partnered with the Shidler College of Business in the professional development and hiring of its students through various internship and full-time opportunities. The firm sponsors the Ernst & Young LLP Accounting Scholarship that is annually awarded to top accounting students at the college, and sponsors the Outstanding Student in Accounting Award at Business Night. The firm currently has more than 40 Shidler alumni working in various offices across the country including: Honolulu, San Francisco, San Jose, Los Angeles, Chicago and New York. Mahalo to EY and congratulations on over 50 years of support and partnership with the Shidler College of Business!
