HALL of HONOR AWARDS

Monday, October 15, 2012
Hilton Hawaiian Beach Resort & Spa

Sponsored by HawaiiBusiness
Aloha,

Good evening. It is my pleasure to welcome all of you to the Shidler College of Business Hall of Honor Awards.

Each year, as we begin our search for the next group of alumni recipients for the Shidler Hall of Honor Awards, I’m overwhelmed by the vast number of exceptional Shidler graduates in the world. Tonight, we honor four extraordinary Shidler alumni who have achieved the highest level of excellence in their profession and provided outstanding service to their communities and alma mater.

Congratulations to Earl Fry, executive VP & CFO of Informatica Corporation; Alton Miyashiro, managing principal of N&K CPAs, Inc.; Ha Thu Thanh, CEO of Deloitte Vietnam; and Susan Yamada, executive director of the University of Hawai’i Pacific Asian Center for Entrepreneurship.

I’m also excited to present our keynote speaker Dr. Ed Catmull, president of Walt Disney & Pixar Animation Studios. Tonight, we have a rare opportunity to learn about Dr. Catmull’s extraordinary work in the digital animation industry that has brought him worldwide success. A pioneer in computer animation, Dr. Catmull continues to set new standards and is responsible for many of the advances made in today’s gaming, movie, television and computer graphics industries. I know that you will be intrigued by what he has to say.

Finally, I would like to recognize David Tumilowicz, publisher of Hawaii Business; Robin Campaniano, Shidler College of Business advisory council chair; Barbara Tanabe, tonight’s emcee, the Shidler Alumni Association’s officers and directors; and Jay Shidler, for their generous support of this year’s Hall of Honor Awards.

Over the years, this event has become a wonderful way for us to showcase our alumni, as well as generate needed funds to support students and alumni outreach programs. As always, I’m grateful for your support of our students and College.

Thank you for joining us, and we hope you have an enjoyable evening.

Sincerely,

Vance Roley
Aloha and congratulations to the 2012 Hall of Honor inductees!

Hawaii Business is honored to be a partner to this event and to the Shidler College of Business. The College is the preeminent organization responsible for training and delivering leaders to the Hawai‘i community, and is perennially named among the top business schools in the nation.

This leadership is in high demand, and the work that goes on every day at the Shidler College impacts Hawai‘i’s economic and community potential. If the past is any guide—Robert Clarke, Richard Ha, Dee Jay Mailer, Jay Shidler, Robin Campaniano, David Heenan, Eddie Flores, Barry Taniguchi, and Dr. Virginia Pressler are all graduates of the College—our future will be bright.

On behalf of everyone at Hawaii Business magazine, we congratulate Hawai‘i’s own Alton Miyashiro and Susan Yamada for joining the ranks of the Hall of Honor inductees, and for the work that they have done to make Hawai‘i a better, more prosperous place.

We also congratulate the very accomplished Earl Fry of Informatica Corporation and Ha Thu Thanh of Deloitte Vietnam on their awards this evening. Their inclusion in the Shidler College Hall of Honor exemplifies the national and international scope of influence that the College has achieved.

We also extend a very special mahalo to the staff of the College, who have worked so hard to create such a special event, and to Dr. Ed Catmull of Walt Disney & Pixar Animation Studios for traveling to be with us this evening.

Mahalo nui loa,
Barbara J. Tanabe (EMBA 1983), Mistress of Ceremonies

With over 25 years of experience in communications, Tanabe has built a distinguished career that has brought her national recognition. She began her broadcast career in Seattle and was recognized by the Asian American Journalists Association for breaking the color and gender barriers in broadcast news. She was among the first group of reporters listed among the top pioneer journalists in the U.S. in the Newseum, a private museum in Washington, D.C. In 1971, she received an Emmy Award for her documentary on the internment of Japanese Americans during World War II. In 1974, Tanabe became anchor and business correspondent with KHON-TV in Honolulu. In 1987, she joined Hill & Knowlton, Hawai‘i’s oldest and largest public relations firm. She was named president in 1992 and chief executive officer the following year, at which time she received the firm’s highest national award: The John W. Hill Award for Excellence.

Today, Tanabe is the owner and principal of Ho‘akea Communications LLC, a public affairs company based in Honolulu.

Tanabe was inducted into the Shidler Hall of Honor in 1996.
Dr. Ed Catmull is co-founder of Pixar Animation Studios and president of Walt Disney and Pixar Animation Studios. Previously, Dr. Catmull was vice president of the Computer Division of Lucasfilm Ltd., where he managed development in the areas of computer graphics, video editing, video games and digital audio.

Dr. Catmull founded three of the leading centers of computer graphics research – the computer graphics laboratory at the New York Institute of Technology, the computer division of Lucasfilm Ltd. and Pixar Animation Studios. These organizations have been responsible for producing some of the most fundamental advances in computer graphics, including image compositing, motion blur, subdivision surfaces, cloth simulation and rendering techniques, texture mapping and the z-buffer. Dr. Catmull is one of the architects of the RenderMan rendering software, which has been used in 44 of the last 47 films nominated for an Academy Award® in the Visual Effects category.

Dr. Catmull is active in several academic and professional organizations including the IEEE’s Computer Society, Association for Computer Machinery (ACM) and the ACM SIGGRAPH conference for nearly 30 years. Dr. Catmull also is a member of The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, the National Academy of Engineering, the Visual Effects Society, and the University of California President’s Board on Science and Innovation.

Dr. Catmull has been honored with five Academy Awards, including a Technical Achievement Award from The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and the Gordon E. Sawyer Award for his lifetime of technical contributions and leadership in the field of computer graphics for the motion picture industry.

Dr. Catmull earned B.S. degrees in computer science and physics and a Ph.D. in computer science from the University of Utah. In 2005, the University of Utah presented him with an Honorary Doctoral Degree in Engineering.
Earl E. Fry is the chief financial officer (CFO), chief administrative officer and executive vice president of services and support for Informatica Corporation, the leading independent provider of data integration software and services, in Redwood City, California.

Fry has been Informatica’s CFO for 13 years and has helped it grow from $60 million in revenues in 1999 to $785 million in 2011. He is responsible for nearly 1,000 of the company’s 2,700+ employees.

Over the past five years, Fry has received many awards for his contributions to Informatica. In 2010, 2011 and 2012, Fry was named software industry CFO of the year by Institutional Investor, Financial Executive of the Year by both the American and International Business Awards in 2009, Bay Area CFO of the year in 2008, and received Ventana Research’s Leadership Award in 2011.

Since 2005, Fry has served on the board of Central Pacific Financial Corporation and has been its audit committee chair since 2008. He continues to serve as director and audit committee chair of Xactly Corporation, a privately-held compensation software company in San Jose, California.

A 1976 Roosevelt High School graduate, Fry was born and raised on O‘ahu and began his career with Ernst & Whinney in Honolulu. He moved to California to continue his education and has held financial leadership roles in public and private companies in the semiconductor, systems and software industries.

Fry serves on the Board of Trustees of Menlo School, an independent college preparatory school in Atherton, California and is a board member of Music@Menlo. He lives in Atherton, California with his wife Joy and children Robert, Jessica and Julia.

Fry graduated from the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa in 1980 with a BBA in Accounting and earned his Stanford Graduate School of Business MBA in 1984.
Alton K. Miyashiro is the managing principal of N&K CPAs, Inc., one of the largest CPA firms in the State of Hawai‘i. Under Miyashiro’s leadership, N&K provides an exceptional level of training, services and benefits to create a productive and cooperative work environment. As a result, N&K was recognized by Hawaii Business as one of the “Best Places to Work” in Hawai‘i for the past six years.

Miyashiro is a certified public accountant with over 34 years of public accounting experience specializing in the areas of business consulting, strategic and business planning, business succession planning, and tax consulting for businesses and high wealth individuals.

Prior to joining N&K in 1989, Miyashiro worked at several international and local certified public accounting firms in Honolulu. He joined N&K as a tax manager and was promoted to principal of the firm in 1991. In 2000, Miyashiro was selected as the firm’s first managing principal for his leadership qualities, ability to work well with people and take the firm to the “next level”.

Miyashiro is a member of several professional and community organizations. He serves on the boards of Island Insurance Companies, Baseball in Paradise, Inc. (a nonprofit) and Ahahui Koa Anuenue. He was a past director of Zephyr Insurance Company, Inc., the United Okinawan Association of Hawaii and CPAmerica International. He is currently a member of the Hawaii Society of Certified Public Accountants and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Miyashiro graduated from Iolani School and went on to earn a BBA in Accounting from the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa in 1977. Miyashiro and his wife Dannette have a son Trent and a golden retriever Ivy.
Ha Thi Thu Thanh is the CEO and co-founder of Deloitte Vietnam. She is one of Vietnam’s first Certified Public Accountants and is recognized as a pioneer in the auditing and accounting industries.

Ha joined the newly established Deloitte Vietnam in 1991 and played an instrumental role in helping her company grow into one of Vietnam’s leading auditing and consulting firms.

Ha has over 20 years of extensive professional experience in management and quality control services. She successfully served as national leading partner for many of Deloitte Vietnam’s clients including large corporations, multinational and FDI enterprises, and public companies.

In addition, Ha served as a lecturer on accounting and auditing for various government ministries, departments, and universities. She also plays an active role on the Vietnamese Auditing Standards Preparing Committee.

Ha is involved in various social organizations and is dedicated to supporting charitable and community activities. She serves as the president of the consultative committee of the Pearl S. Buck International Foundation, a non-profit US organization for disabled children and orphans, vice president of Hanoi Association for Entrepreneur Women, a member of the board of management of the Vietnam Tax Consultants’ Association and the Vietnam Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Ha received a BS from the Finance and Accounting University of Vietnam and an MBA from the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa. She received her CPA certification from Vietnam and Australia.

Executive Director
University of Hawai‘i
Pacific Asian Center for Entrepreneurship (PACE)

Susan Yamada has been the executive director of PACE since June 2008. Located within the University of Hawai‘i’s Shidler College of Business, the Entrepreneurship Center hosts a comprehensive set of programs, utilizing both experiential and mentoring approaches to teaching students and faculty the process of entrepreneurship.

Prior to assuming her position at PACE, Yamada spent 17 years working in senior management positions at various entrepreneurial start-up companies in California before returning home to Hawai‘i in 2001.

While in Silicon Valley, Yamada served as the founding CEO of TRUSTe, an online privacy seal program dedicated to protecting users’ personal information on the Internet. At TRUSTe, Yamada served as part of the founding management team for VEO Systems, a business-to-business software developer.

Prior to founding TRUSTe, she led Upside Magazine where she spent five years as the CEO and publisher. Upside Magazine was the first business magazine focusing exclusively on serving the information needs of technology executives.

Yamada is currently interested in the diversification of Hawai‘i’s economy through the creation of high-growth, entrepreneurial companies. She was a founding member of the Hawaii Angels, a network of individuals who invest in start-up companies and an active mentor and investor in Hawai‘i-based, start-up companies.

Yamada serves as a board member for the Hawaii Nature Center, the Entrepreneurs’ Foundation of Hawai‘i and KCAA Preschools. She also heads the Yamada Scott Family Foundation, whose mission is to inspire and support Hawai‘i’s students in maximizing their potential via educational grants and scholarships.

Yamada grew up in Hawai‘i, graduated from James B. Castle High School, and earned a BBA degree from the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa and an MBA degree from San Jose State University. She resides in Honolulu with her two children.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAI’I AT MĀNOA
SHIDLER COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

Established in 1949 as the College of Business Administration, the College was named in 2006 after alumnus Jay H. Shidler, founder and managing partner of The Shidler Group. The Shidler College of Business is renowned for its expertise in international management education and is consistently ranked among the nation’s top 25 graduate schools for international business by U.S. News & World Report. Long recognized for its Asia-Pacific focus, the College is a professional school, offering a wide variety of degree, certificate and executive programs. The College places a strong emphasis on the development of management skills, entrepreneurship and the management of business information technology. The UH Shidler College of Business is the only graduate program in the State of Hawai’i accredited by AACSB International.
