Good evening,

It is my pleasure to welcome all of you to the 2014 Shidler College of Business Hall of Honor Awards.

Over the years, the Hall of Honor Awards has established itself as one of the premier business events in Hawai‘i. This annual tradition not only highlights the achievements of alumni and special friends of the College, but also underscores the importance of quality leadership in business and in the community.

This evening, the College is honored to recognize five remarkable leaders with the Hall of Honor Award. Congratulations to Roland Casamina, president & CEO of the House of Finance, Inc.; Curtis Freeze, CEO of Prospect Asset Management, Inc.; James H.Q. Lee, CEO of KB Lee Corporation and regent emeritus of the University of Hawai‘i; Gina Mangieri, reporter of KHON and founder of the Cole Academy; and David McClain, professor & president emeritus of the University of Hawai‘i.

These honorees have established exceptional professional success and an outstanding record of public service in their communities and at the College. Throughout their careers, they have supported many organizations and volunteered their time as board members, guest speakers, mentors, consultants and ambassadors.

Tonight, they will join 76 past recipients of the Shidler Hall of Honor Awards. Together, they serve as an inspiration to all of us who are striving to achieve excellence in our own careers and communities.

Finally, I would like to thank the many companies and individuals who continue to support the College. I would especially like to thank our title sponsor, Hawaii Business magazine and Publisher Bobby Senaha, Barbara Tanabe for emceeing tonight’s program, the Shidler Alumni Association, and Jay Shidler for his continuous support of the College.

Thank you again for your participation and support. Please enjoy the evening.

Sincerely,

Vance Roley
Dean and First Hawaiian Bank Chair of Leadership & Management
MESSAGE FROM THE TITLE SPONSOR

Aloha and congratulations to the 2014 Hall of Honor inductees!

Hawaii Business magazine is once again honored to partner with the Shidler College of Business. Frequently named among the nation’s top business schools, the institution plays a crucial role in training the leaders of Hawai‘i.

In line with Hawaii Business magazine’s mission of strengthening the local economy and helping communities thrive, the ongoing work at the Shidler College ensures a bright future for Hawai‘i.

On behalf of everyone at Hawaii Business magazine, we congratulate Roland Casamina, Curtis Freeze, James Lee, Gina Mangieri, and David McClain for joining the ranks of the Hall of Honor inductees in 2014. This year’s distinguished group, along with honorees from past years, help pave the way to a more prosperous Hawai‘i.

We also extend a very special mahalo to everyone at the Shidler College who has worked so hard to create such a special event this evening.

Mahalo nui loa,

Bobby Senaha, Publisher
Barbara J. Tanabe (EMBA 1983), Mistress of Ceremonies

With over 25 years of experience in communications, Tanabe has built a distinguished career that has brought her national recognition. She began her broadcast career in Seattle and was recognized by the Asian American Journalists Association for breaking the color and gender barriers in broadcast news. She was among the first group of reporters listed as one of the top pioneer journalists in the U.S. in the Newseum, a private museum in Washington, D.C. In 1971, she received an Emmy Award for her documentary on the internment of Japanese Americans during World War II. In 1974, Tanabe became anchor and business correspondent with KHON-TV in Honolulu. In 1987, she joined Hill & Knowlton, Hawai‘i’s oldest and largest public relations firm. She was named president in 1992 and chief executive officer the following year, at which time she received the firm’s highest national award: The John W. Hill Award for Excellence. Today, Tanabe is the owner and principal of Ho‘akea Communications LLC, a public affairs company based in Honolulu.

Roland Casamina established House of Finance, Inc. in 1995. Under his leadership as president and CEO, House of Finance prospered and was recognized by Pacific Business News as one of the top 20 largest residential lenders in Hawai‘i for the past five years.

Born in the Philippines, Casamina came to Hawai‘i in the late 1960s and worked as a busboy and waiter to support himself through high school and college. After graduating from the Shidler College of Business, Casamina was hired as a branch manager for International Savings and Loan where he worked his way up to vice president. In 1995, he left his position to pursue his dream of owning a mortgage company and assisting the underrepresented population of homebuyers.

Casamina is well respected for his community service and educational support. In the early nineties, Casamina and Eddie Flores, Jr., launched a campaign to build the Filipino Community Center in Waipahu. After 10 arduous years, the FilCom Center was unveiled and Casamina was chosen as its first president.

In 2008, Casamina received the coveted “Man of the Year” award by the Hawaii Jaycees for his community service work. He also established a $50,000 endowed scholarship for undergraduate business students at the Shidler College of Business in 2012.

Casamina received his BBA from the Shidler College of Business at the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa in 1976. He and his wife Evelyn have four children and two grandchildren.
Curtis R. Freeze is the founder and director of Prospect Co. Ltd. and Prospect Asset Management, Hawai‘i-based investment firms with locations in Tokyo since 1994. Freeze also serves as the chief investment officer to Prospect’s funds and managed accounts and is president of the listed entity GRO-BELS, Co., Ltd. His firms are widely respected for their ability to find companies with long-term capital growth for Japanese investors.

From 1990 to 1994, Freeze was employed as an advisor to DB Morgan Grenfell Asset Management Limited in Tokyo, where he helped the company increased its shares to $1.4 billion through the acquisition of smaller Japanese companies. He also co-managed the Morgan Grenfell Japan Smaller Companies Fund, which was the best performing Japanese fund between 1989-1994 with net assets of $350 million.

For many years, Freeze has hosted a number of alumni gatherings in Tokyo for the Shidler College of Business. In 2005, he supported the College’s Internship and Career Development Office through a $100,000 matching gift campaign.

Freeze received his bachelor of arts degree in economics from the University of Utah in 1984 and an MBA from the Shidler College of Business at the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa in 1987.
James H.Q. Lee is a partner in the Honolulu law firm of Devens, Lo, Youth, Nakano, Saito, Lee & Wong and the CEO of KB Lee Corporation, a family holding company, which owns Hee Hing Restaurant, Hoku Brewing Company, LLC and Manapua and More!

Through the years, Lee remained fascinated with the food and beverage industry. In 1997, he became managing director of Aloha Beer Company, a company that owned and operated Sam Choy’s Restaurants in Hawai’i, Japan and Guam. For many years, Lee contributed food ideas to his family’s restaurant from his travels abroad.

Lee is highly regarded for his community service and has served on numerous boards. He served on the University of Hawai’i Board of Regents from 2009-2014, including vice chair from 2011-2014. He was also past board chair of the Big Brothers/Big Sisters Foundation, Inc., director of the Boy’s Scout of America, chair of the Iolani School Family Fair and vice chair of the Research Corporation of the University of Hawai’i.

Lee received his BBA in accounting from the Shidler College of Business at the University of Hawai’i at Mānoa in 1978, and received a JD from the UH Mānoa William S. Richardson School of Law in 1981. He is a certified public accountant.
He is married to Vickie and has two children, Charles and Jamie.

Gina Mangieri is an investigative reporter for KHON2 and the founder of The Cole Academy preschools.

A journalist by trade, Mangieri has worked in print and broadcast news in New York, London, Chicago and Washington, D.C. She moved to Hawai‘i in 1999 to serve as editor of Pacific Business News. In 2004, she join the KHON2 staff as a reporter and connected immediately with viewers.

However, as a working mother, Mangieri was faced with the challenge of finding a suitable preschool for her child. In 2004, after a year of planning, she decided to establish The Cole Academy preschools. Today, she oversees five locations—downtown Honolulu, Kaimuki, Kapolei, Kailua and Kunia with a sixth location coming soon to Mililani. She and her husband Doug also run Hawaii Nautical, an ocean activities company started in 2000 with a fleet of yachts serving large hotels on O‘ahu.

Mangieri received her bachelor’s and master’s degrees in journalism from Northwestern University and an MBA from the Shidler College of Business at the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa. She and her husband have two sons, Cole and Rowen.
David McClain is president emeritus of the University of Hawai‘i, where he has been a tenured professor of financial economics and institutions at the Shidler College of Business since 1991.

Prior to joining UH, he was a tenured faculty member, finance department chair, and founding director of the Management Development Program-Japan at Boston University. He is the author of Apocalypse on Wall Street (published by Dow Jones/Irwin), a number of scholarly articles, and hundreds of columns on economic issues.

McClain served as senior staff economist on the Council of Economic Advisers to President Jimmy Carter, headed international economic information services for Data Resources, Inc., and chaired the APEC Business Management Network.

After receiving a BA in economics and mathematics from the University of Kansas in 1968, McClain joined the United States Army, completing his service as a first lieutenant in Vietnam. He earned a PhD in economics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1974. In 2007, McClain received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree from Doshisha University in Kyoto, Japan.

David and his wife Wendie have three children and two grandchildren.
Mahalo to the sponsors of the 2014 Hall of Honor Awards. Funds raised tonight will benefit the Shidler College of Business Alumni Association.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAI’I AT MĀNOA
SHIDLER COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

Established in 1949 as the College of Business Administration, the College was named in 2006 after alumnus Jay H. Shidler, founder and managing partner of The Shidler Group. The Shidler College of Business is renowned for its expertise in international management education and is consistently ranked among the nation’s top 25 schools for international business by U.S. News & World Report. Long recognized for its Asia-Pacific focus, the College is a professional school, offering a wide variety of degree, certificate and executive programs. The UH Shidler College of Business is the only graduate program in the State of Hawai’i accredited by AACSB International.
